

A large, bold logo for DIVElto. The 'D' is pink with a white flame-like shape inside, and the word 'IVElto' is in white, all-caps, sans-serif font. The entire logo is centered on a black rectangular background.

All sports, one single network.

Divelto is the first social network entirely dedicated to the world of sports (all sports!) and sporting passions.

A vertical platform where every athlete, industry professional or passionate fan can find their space, share stories, launch projects and create new connections.

Whether you're a young footballer, an Olympic fencer, a fitness coach, a club manager, a basketball nerd or a cycling stats geek, Divelto is the place for you.

Photos, videos, talk posts, events, announcements, polls, private messaging: everything you need to live your passion for sports is just a tap away, via our desktop site or handy iOS and Android apps.

Rooms: one for every sport, one for every passion

The beating heart of Divelto is its Rooms: highly specific themed spaces where you'll meet people who share your same interests across all facets of the sporting world.

We've worked to cover all disciplines, teams and athletes — from mainstream to niche sports. If something's missing, you can create it yourself and add it to your favorites. You'll find rooms for:

- team and individual sports: from football to padel, fencing to water polo
- professional and amateur teams from every era
- athletes: from legends like Usain Bolt and Serena Williams to new talents
- major events: Olympics, World Cups, Champions League, NBA Finals, Tour de France
- training, performance, mental preparation, injury prevention
- fan culture, stadiums, venues, meetups, fantasy sports

Inside each room you can post talks, ask questions, share experiences, get advice and connect with like-minded people.

Pages: are you a pro or a business in the sports world?

Divelto is more than just a social space — it's a powerful tool for professionals who work in sports or want to expand their visibility to a passionate, targeted audience.

You can create a Page if you are:

- a coach, fitness trainer or sports physiotherapist
- a gym, sports center, soccer academy or federation
- a professional or amateur athlete
- an event or tournament organizer
- a sportswear or equipment brand or supplier
- a magazine, podcast, influencer, creator, photographer
- a club, agency or business related to sports

The more valuable content you post (photos, videos, articles, talk posts...), the more your audience grows. This allows you to build a community around your Page, so when you're ready to launch your first crowdfunding campaign, you'll already have engaged supporters.

Every Page is designed to showcase your identity and offer concrete tools for growth and visibility, in a focused and curated environment.

Crowdfunding: power your projects through community

With Divelto's donation-based crowdfunding, you can instantly raise support for sports-related projects, big or small.

Some examples:

- funding a tournament, trip or competition
- purchasing equipment or upgrading a sports facility
- supporting an emerging young athlete
- organizing a local event or sports camp
- launching a social initiative through sport
- publishing a book or sports documentary

Just a few simple steps to share your idea, activate your campaign and engage those who share your vision. On Divelto, the power of the sports community can make a real difference.

A real community, full of stories and passion

Divelto is more than a platform: it's a place where every fan finds their lane. Where athletes, coaches, fans and insiders interact. Where sport becomes action, connection and inspiration.

A community made of real people, real stories, real sport.

A place where sport isn't just watched — it's lived, shared, supported.
